To Whomsoever it may concern

Please find below our proprietary letter for the process of purchasing Taylor & Francis eBooks.

This is to certify that the content (Taylor & Francis eBooks) which is going to be procured by National Institute of Technology Durgapur, West Bengal, INDIA is the Copyright of Taylor and Francis Group, an Informa Company which is from our flagship Imprints: CRC Press and Routledge.

We assure you that these are finest prices and discounts that we offered to you and are not more than any other institution may receive on any online title published from our banner.

Since 2003, CRC Press is a member of the Taylor & Francis publishing group. No scientific publisher has a more illustrious history than Taylor & Francis. Established in 1783, Taylor & Francis launched the world leading Physics and Material Science journal, the Philosophical Magazine, which was the first of the more than 1000 journals it now publishes, covering nearly every facet of human endeavour. CRC Press also benefitted from the independent 2004 merger of Taylor and Francis with Informa. With over 150 offices across the world, Informa plc is the leading international provider of specialist information and services for the academic and scientific, professional, and commercial business communities. Operating in over 40 countries, it produces 10,000 events annually.

Strong organic growth bolstered by thoughtful acquisitions has made CRC Press / Taylor and Francis Group a leader in science and technical publishing. Many renowned publishers have come under the CRC banner, including Marcel Dekker Publishing, the book division of the Institute of Physics, Productivity Press, and A K Peters LTD. Already an international leader in Chemistry, Life Sciences, Engineering, Mathematics, Statistics, Information Technology, and Computer Science, we've strengthened our collection of cutting-edge resources with the addition of lean manufacturing, computer game development, and computer graphics titles.

In addition to traditional print publications, CRC Press provides access to over 8,000 titles through its award-winning platform Taylor & Francis. This sophisticated platform couples advanced functionality with easy access to well-organized collections of high-quality scholarly information.

Taylor & Francis Group, an Informa Company

As one of the world's largest publishers, Taylor & Francis maintains offices throughout the world including London, Brighton, and Abingdon in the U.K.; New York, Philadelphia, Florence, Kentucky, and Boca Raton, Florida in the U.S.A.; and Singapore, Australia, China, and New Delhi, India. Publishing more than 2,600 journals and approximately 7,000 new books each year, the Taylor and Francis Group has a backlist more than 83,000 specialist titles.
