Academic Section

Notice

Attention: PhD scholars

Date: 14/05/2020

Due to the present situation to safeguard the PhD scholars in the progress of their work, the competent authority has approved the following:

- 1) Extension of time for PhD Registration and to allow one more semester for completion of the course work for the enrolled scholars yet to register.
- 2) Extension of Thesis submission period by 6 months for the scholars who have already delivered the pre-submission seminar.
- 3) To conduct the PhD defence seminars and pre- submission seminars online subject to complying all the required formalities, by the scholars whose all other requirements are complete.
- 4) Extension of registration period, if required by a scholar, will be considered on a case to case basis.

Most of the official activities will be performed online. The scholars are directed not to visit the Institute till further notice, as per the earlier general notification and to work from home for the progress of their research work as far as possible. The academic section will inform the respective supervisors of the scholars on the actions to be taken about point 3 above. Submission of thesis and documents to the Academic Section will remain closed till further notice. The scholars are advised to comply the instructions issued by the Academic Section to tide over this difficult situation.
